 Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows to act in such manner as shall appear to them best calculated to promote the purposes intended by the said Uni-
 Bye-Laws. versity. The said Chancellor,
 Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows shall have full power from time to time to make and alter any bye-laws and regulations (so as the same be not repugnant to law or to the general objects and provisions of this Act) touching the examination for degrees and the granting of the same; and touching the examination for honors and the granting of marks of honor for a higher proficiency in the different branches of Literature, Science, and Art; and touching the qualifications of the candidates for degrees and the previous course of instruction to be followed by them, and the preliminary examinations to be submitted to by them; and touching the mode and time of convening the meetings of the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows; and, in general, touching all other matters whatever regarding the said University. And all such bye-laws and regulations, when reduced into writing, and after the common seal of the said University shall have been affixed thereto, shall be binding upon all persons, members of the said University, and all candidates for degrees to be conferred by the same, provided such bye-laws and regulations shall have been first submitted to and shall have received the approval of the Governor-General of India in Council.

IX. All questions which shall come before the Meetings of the Senate. Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows, shall be decided at a meeting of the Senate by the majority of the members present; and the Chairman at any such meeting shall have a vote, and, in case of an equality of votes, a second or casting vote. No question shall be decided at any meeting, unless the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, and five Fellows, or, in the absence of the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor, unless six Fellows at the least, shall be present at the time of the decision. At every meeting of the Senate, the Chancellor, or in his absence the Vice-Chancellor, shall preside as Chairman; and, in the absence of both, a Chairman shall be chosen by the Fellows present or the major part of them.

X. The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Appointment and removal of Examiners and Officers. Fellows for the time being shall have full power from time to time to appoint, and, as they shall see occasion, to remove all Examiners, Officers, and servants of the said University.

XI. The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Power to confer degrees. Fellows, shall have power, after examination, to confer the several degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, Bachelor of Laws, Licentiate of Medicine, Doctor of Medicine, and Master of Civil Engineering; they shall also have power, after examination, to confer upon the candidates for the said several degrees marks of honor for a high degree of proficiency in the different branches of Literature, Science, and Art, according to rules to be determined by the bye-laws to be from time to time made by them under the power in that behalf given to them by this Act.

XII. Except by special order of the Senate, no Qualification for admission of Candidates for degrees. person shall be admitted as a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, Bachelor of Laws, Licentiate of Medicine, Doctor of Medicine, or Master of Civil Engineering, unless he shall present to the said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows, a certificate from one of the Institutions authorized in that behalf by the Governor-General of India in Council, to the effect that he has completed the course of instruction prescribed by the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows of the said University, in the Bye-laws to be made by them under the power in that behalf given by this Act.

XIII. The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Examination for de- Fellows shall cause an examination for degrees. greees. tion for degrees to be held at least once in every year; on every such examination the candidates shall be examined either by Examiners appointed for the purpose from among the Fellows by the said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows, or by other Examiners so to be appointed; and on every such examination, the candidates, whether candidates for an ordinary degree or for a degree with honors, shall be examined on as many subjects and in such manner as the said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fellows shall appoint.

XIV. At the conclusion of every examination of Grant of degrees. the candidates, the Examiners shall declare the name of every candidate whom they shall have deemed entitled to any of the said degrees, and his proficiency in relation to other candidates; and also the honors which he may have gained in respect of his proficiency in that department of knowledge in which he is about to graduate; and he shall receive from the said Chancellor a certificate, under the seal of the said University of Calcutta and signed by the said Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor, in which the particulars so stated shall be declared.

XV. The said Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and Fees. Fellows shall have power to charge such reasonable fees for the degrees to be conferred by them, and upon admission into the said University, and for continuance therein, as they, with the approbation of the Governor-General of India in Council, shall from time to time see fit to impose. Such fees shall be carried to one General Fee Fund for the payment of expenses of the said University, under the directions and regulations of the Governor-General of India in Council, to whom the accounts
Annual accounts. of income and expenditure of the said University shall once in every year be submitted for such examination and audit as the said Governor-General of India in Council may direct.

BYE-LAWS.

THE SENATE.

THE Senate, as constituted by Act No. II. of 1857, consists of the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, and as many Ex-officio and other Fellows, not being less than thirty in all, as may be from time to time appointed by the Governor-General of India in Council.

The Senate shall meet ordinarily once a year, on the second Saturday in December, and at other times when convened by the Vice-Chancellor.

The Vice-Chancellor shall convene a meeting of the Senate on the requisition of any six of the Members.

Nine Members of the senate shall constitute a quorum, and all questions shall be decided by a majority of the votes of the Members present.

By the 8th Section of Act No. II of 1857, the Senate has power to make and alter Bye-laws and Regulations, subject to the approval of the Governor-General of India in Council.

THE FACULTIES.

The Senate shall be divided into four Faculties, namely, Arts, Law, Medicine, and Engineering. Every Member of the Senate shall be a Member of one Faculty at least, and any Member of the Senate may be a Member of more than one Faculty.

The Faculties shall be appointed by the Senate at its Annual Meeting.

Each Faculty shall elect its own President. Every Meeting of a Faculty shall be convened by its President, or in his absence, by the Senior Fellow belonging to that Faculty.

If any Faculty omit to elect a President for one month after its appointment, or after a vacancy occurs, the Vice-Chancellor may appoint any Member of such Faculty to be its President.

Three Members of any Faculty shall constitute a quorum of that Faculty.

THE SYNDICATE.

The Executive Government of the University shall be vested in a Syndicate, consisting of the Vice-Chancellor and six of the Fellows who shall be elected for one year by the several Faculties, in the following proportions:—

Three by the Faculty of Arts.

One by the Faculty of Law.

One by the Faculty of Medicine.

One by the Faculty of Engineering.

The elections to take place within one month before the Annual Meeting of the Senate, and the names of the persons to be elected to be declared at such Meeting.

The Syndicate shall meet ordinarily once a month, and at other times when convened by the Vice-Chancellor.

All the elected Members of the Syndicate must be resident in or near Calcutta, and if any such Member is absent from Calcutta for more than three months, his place shall become vacant.

On every vacancy in the Syndicate, caused by death, resignation, absence from Calcutta, or otherwise, the Faculty, by whom the Member causing the vacancy was elected, shall proceed to elect a new Member for the remainder of the current year.

If any Faculty omit to elect a Member of the Syndicate within one month after a vacancy occurs, the Vice-Chancellor may appoint one from among the Members of that Faculty.

Four Members of the Syndicate shall constitute a quorum, and all questions shall be decided by a majority of the votes of the Members present.

The Vice-Chancellor, or, in his absence, the Senior* Fellow present shall preside at all Meetings of the Syndicate, and if the votes, including that of the President, are equally divided, the President shall have a casting vote.

* The ex-officio Fellows of the University are always the Senior Fellows in order of official precedence. The seniority of the other Fellows mentioned in the Act of Incorporation is according to the order in which their names appear there. The seniority of all other Fellows is according to the date and order of their appointment.

It shall be the duty of the Syndicate to appoint, and, if necessary, to remove the Examiners and all other Officers of the University, except the Registrar; to order Examinations in conformity with the Regulations; to grant Degrees, Honors, and Rewards; to keep the Accounts of the University; and to correspond on the business of the University with the Government and all other authorities and persons.

During the year, between the Annual Meetings of the Senate, the Syndicate may appoint any Member of the Senate to any one or more of the Faculties, and may transfer any Member from one Faculty to another.

The Syndicate shall from time to time frame such Bye-laws and Regulations as may be necessary, subject to the approval of the Senate. Each Faculty shall report on any subject that may be referred to it by the Syndicate.

Any Faculty, or any Member, or number of Members of the Senate, may make any recommendation to the Syndicate, and may propose any Bye-Law or Regulation for the consideration of the Syndicate.

The decision of the Syndicate on any such recommendation or proposition, or any matter whatever, may be brought before the Senate by any Member of the Senate at one of its Meetings, and the Senate may approve, revise, or modify any such decision, or may direct the Syndicate to review it.

No question shall be considered by the Senate that has not, in the first instance, been considered and decided on by the Syndicate.

THE REGISTRAR.

The Registrar shall be appointed by the Senate. He shall be appointed for two years only; but at the end of that term he may be re-appointed. If a vacancy occurs in this office between two Annual Meetings of the Senate, a Special Meeting of the Senate shall be convened for the purpose of appointing a Registrar, and in the meanwhile the Syndicate may appoint a Registrar pro-tempore.

The Registrar shall be the custodian of the Records, Library, Common Seal, and such other property of the University as the Syndicate shall commit to his charge.

All Meetings of the Senate, the 'Syndicate, and the Faculties, shall be convened through the Registrar, who shall keep a record of the proceedings of such Meetings.

EXAMINATION PAPERS.

BACHELOR OF ARTS.

Pass Examination.

Examiner.—E. B. COWELL, Esq., M.A.

MONDAY, April 4th.—Morning, 10 to 1½. P. M.

ENGLISH.

1. Paraphrase very carefully the following passages :—
  - a. Some beauties yet no precepts can declare,
For there's a happiness as well as care.
Music resembles poetry ; in each
Are nameless graces which no methods teach,
And which a master-hand alone can reach.
If, where the rules not far enough extend,
(Since rules were made but to promote their end,)
Some lucky license answer to the full
Th' intent proposed, that license is a rule.
Thus Pegasus, a nearer way to take,
May boldly deviate from the common track ;
From vulgar bounds with brave disorder part,
And snatch a grace beyond the reach of art,

Which, without passing through the judgment, gains

The heart, and all its end at once attains.

- b.* Most critics, fond of some subservient art,
Still make the whole depend upon a part ;
They talk of principles, but notions prize,
And all to one loved folly sacrifice.

2. Explain the following lines :—

- a.* Each might his several province well command.
Would all but stoop to what they understand.
b. Expression is the dress of thought, and still Appears more decent as more suitable.
c. Those rules of old discovered, not devised,
Are nature still, but nature methodised.
d. But most by numbers judge a poet's song,
And smooth or rough with them is right or wrong.

3. Explain the phrases, "the Mantuan Muse," "the Stagirite," "the Pierian spring," "Timotheus' varied lays," "the Mæonian star."

4. Pope says,

In words, as fashions, the same rule will hold,
Alike fantastic, if too new or old.

Illustrate this by examples of English words.

5. What are auxiliary verbs? Explain the constructions: "I have bought these books," "I have waited," "I am beaten."

6. What is a case? How far are there cases in English?

7. Explain the following sentences from Lord Macaulay ; and point out particularly the words in which the rhetorical beauty consists.

a. The influence of the French conqueror never extended beyond low water mark.

b. The approach of disaster in Spain had been for some time indicated by omens much clearer than the mishap of a salt cellar.

c. Newcastle's love of power resembled Cutler's love of money. It was an avarice which thwarted itself, a penny-wise and pound-foolish cupidity.

d. In our time the audience of a member of Parliament is the nation.

8. Paraphrase and explain the lines:—

All access was thronged; the gates
And porches wide, but chief the spacious hall (Though like a covered field, where champions bold
Wont ride in armed, and at the Soldan's chair
Defied the best of Panim chivalry
To mortal combat or career with lance) Thick swarmed, both on the ground and in the air,
Brush'd with the hiss of rushing wings.

9. Write a letter in the style of Defoe, purporting to be written by a citizen of London to his brother in the north of England, when the Plague began to amend.

MONDAY, April 4th.—Afternoon, 2 to 5½. P. M.

ENGLISH.

Examiner.—G. SMITH, ESQ., M.A.

I. Looking upon the chief elements of modern English as Anglo-Saxon on the one hand, and classical (Greek, Latin, and Latin-French) on the other, state what classes of words, as to their meaning, belong to each of these two respectively, and give illustrations.

II. Define strictly an Impersonal Verb. Give instances of true Impersonal Verbs in English, where the pronoun "it" is not used.

III. Define and distinguish between Irregularity and Defectiveness in words or forms, and illustrate both by examples.

IV. Give the history of the following words:

could	chemist
king	obliterate
Tartar	style
jungle	aesthetics.

V. Classify the letters of the English Alphabet according to their powers, and compare it as to fulness, force, and utility with any one other alphabet that you know.

VI. What is your impression of the style of Milton's poetry, the character of his imagery, and the mode in which he works out the story?

VII. Milton says in his Preface to his own edition (1669) of the Paradise Lost :—

"The measure is English Heroick verse without Rime, as that of Homer in Greek and Virgil in Latin; Rime being no necessary adjunct or true ornament of Poem or good verse, in longer Works especially, but the invention of a barbarous age, to set off wretched matter and lame meeter."

Defend, or otherwise, the opinion he advances. Give an account of the leading English measures with examples.

VIII. Sketch in brief but graphic language the argument and action of the 6th Book of the Paradise Lost.

IX. What poets, especially Gray and Pope, have imitated or changed the following lines, and give the passages :

1. "And justify the ways of God to men,"
2. "And the torturing hour calls us to penance."
3. "Dark with excessive light Thy skirts appear."
4. "Twilight grey
Had in her sober livery all things clad."

X. Contrast Milton and Gray, the days in which they lived, and the character of their poetry.

XI. Write an Analysis of, and Criticism on Gray's "Ode to Adversity."

TUESDAY, April 5th.—Morning, 10 to 1½ P. M.

LATIN.

II. Explain the cases vitæ and sceleris? Give other instances of the same construction from Horace and Virgil. or from the Greek; give an instance of the prose construction in Horace.

III. Give at length the metre of the first verse, and quote any well-known instances of the same metre in English poetry.

IV. Explain all the historical and geographical allusions.

V. Parse fully

Quod latus.

VI. Write a brief criticism on the Ode, and quote other passages from Horace in which similar sentiments are expressed.

VII. Quote any passages from the Odes of Horace, in which he alludes to incidents in his own life.

Namque absentîâ legati remoto metu, Britanni agitare inter se mala servitutis, conferre injurias, et interpretando accendere : nihil profici patientiâ, nisi ut graviora, tamquam ex facili tolerantibus, imperentur : singulos sibi olim reges fuisse, nunc binos imponi : e quibus legatus in sanguinem, procurator in bona sæviret. Æque discordiam præpositorum, æque concordiam, subjectis exitiosam : alterius manus centuriones alterius, vim et contumelias miscere. Nihil jam cupiditati nihil libidini exceptum : in proelio fortiores esse, qui spoliet : nunc ab ignavis plerumque et imbellibus eripi domos, abstrahi liberos, injungi delectus, tamquam mori tantum pro patriâ nescientibus : quantum enim transisse militum, si sese Britanni numerent ? sic Germanias excussisse jugum : et flumine, non Oceano, defendi : sibi patriam, conjuges, parentes ; illis avaritiam et luxuriam, causas belli esse. Recessuros, ut D. Julius recessisset, modo virtutes majorum suorum æmulerentur. Neve prælii unius aut alterius eventu pavescerent : plus impetûs, majorem constantiam, penes miseros esse. Jam Britannorum etiam deos misereri, qui Romanum ducem absentem, qui relegatum in aliâ insulâ exercitum, detinerent : jam ipsos, quod difficillimum fuerit, deliberare : porro in ejusmodi consiliis periculosius esse deprehendi, quam audere.

Translate the above into English :—

2. What is the difference between bini and duo ? Explain the meaning of legatus, procurator, centurio and veteranorum colonia ; and give the etymology of salarium and seditio.

3. Explain indaginis modo ; eminus certabatur ; precario præfuit ; and distinguish between agmen, exercitus and acies ; anima, animus and mens ; indies and quotidie.

4. What are the general principles of the employment of the subjunctive with qui ? Give examples.

5. Suscipere tam inimicitias, seu patris seu propinqui, quam amicitias, necesse est : nec implacabiles durant : luitur enim etiam homicidium certo armentorum ac pecorum numero, recipitque satisfactionem universa domus: utiliter in publicum; quia periculosiores sunt inimicitiae juxta libertatem. Convictibus et hospitibus non alia gens effusius indulget. Quemcumque mortalium arcere tecto, nefas habetur: pro fortunâ quisque apparatus epulis excipit. Cum defecere, qui modo hospes fuerat, monstrator hospitii et comes, proximam domum non invitati adeunt: nec interest: pari humanitate accipiuntur. Notum ignotumque, quantum ad jus hospitii, nemo discernit. Abeunti, si quid poposcerit, concedere moris; et poscendi invicem eadem facilitas. Gaudent muneribus: sed nec data imputant, nec acceptis obligantur.

Translate the above into English.

6. Translate the following into Latin:—

Aristotle tells us that a statue lies hid in a block of marble; and that the art of the statuary only clears away the superfluous matter and removes the rubbish. The figure is in the stone, the sculptor only finds it. What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to a human soul. The philosopher, the saint, or the hero; the wise, the good, or the great man, very often lie hid and concealed in a plebian, which a proper education might have disinterred and have brought to light. I am therefore much delighted with reading the accounts of savage nations, and with contemplating those virtues which are wild and uncultivated; to see courage exerting itself in fierceness, resolution in obstinacy, wisdom in cunning, patience in despair.

10. Translate the following passage into Bengali:—

Mahmud entered the temple, and was struck with the grandeur of the edifice, the lofty roof of which was supported by fifty-six pillars curiously carved and richly ornamented with precious stones. The external light was excluded, but the temple was illuminated by a lamp which hung down in the centre from a golden chain. Facing the entrance was Somnat, an idol five yards high, of which two were buried in the ground. Mahmud instantly ordered the image to be destroyed; when the Bramins of the temple threw themselves before him, and offered an enormous ransom if he would spare their deity. Mahmud hesitated; and his courtiers hastened to offer the advice which they knew would be acceptable; but Mahmud, after a moment's pause, exclaimed that he would rather be remembered as the breaker than the seller of idols, and struck the image with his mace. His example was instantaneously followed, and the image, which was hollow, burst with the blows, and poured forth a quantity of diamonds and other jewels which had been concealed in it, that amply repaid Mahmud for the sacrifice of the ransom. Two pieces of this idol were sent to Mecca and Medina, and two to Ghazni, where one was to be seen at the palace, and one at the public mosque, as late as Ferishta wrote his history.

The scene opens on a field of battle. The Kooros and the Pandoos, kindred tribes, are about to engage in a deadly war. Arjoon is one of the heroes of the Pandoos; he is standing in a chariot drawn by white horses. Near him is the divine Kreeshna, of whom at present we must only say that he is the mysterious counsellor of the prince. What his offices and nature are, he himself will tell us by and by.

Arjoon is looking with dismay and horror upon a battle, in which there were uncles, tutors, cousins, sons, brothers, and bosom friends on both sides. He thinks there can be no happiness for him hereafter if he should be the murderer of people of his own race. Such a crime is likely to destroy the virtue of the whole family or tribe; hell is threatened both to those who fall and those who survive. The chief sits down in the chariot between the two armies, and casts away his bow and arrows.

Grants of lands, as rewards for Civil and Military services, and named Jaghirs, were made both by Hindu and Mahomedan Kings—Describe the effect upon the King's share of the village so alienated; and the effect upon the rights of the village landholder and permanent tenants, by the alienation of the King's right to these lands.

2. Describe how the minute subdivision of inheritances amongst the Hindus has caused the abject condition of the greater part of them; and how it has acted, so as to cause the decline and stagnation of Hindu civilization?

3. What was the most flourishing period for ancient Hindu literature?

4. Trace the furthest points in India, East and South of the Sutledge, reached by Sultan Mahmud during his twelve invasions of India.

5. Describe the extent of Shahab-u-din Ghori's possessions in India at the time of his death, which event took place in March, 1206 A. D.

6. In what year, and under what circumstances, and under what Mahomedan king, did Hindustan proper first become an independent kingdom?

7. Mention the date of the first eruption of the Moguls into the Mahomedan kingdoms of Asia; and the name of their famous leader. Give a short sketch of these Moguls; their object for invading India about 1223 A. D.; and describe why this eruption was considered the greatest calamity that had fallen on mankind since the Deluge.

8. Under what Mahomedan king was Deogiri, now Dowlutabad in the Deccan, made the capital of Hindustan, instead of Delhi? Describe the fatal consequences to the inhabitants, upon this most harsh and unwise measure being carried out.

9. In whose reign, and at what date, was Tamerlane proclaimed Emperor of India? How long did Tamerlane remain in India after his proclamation? Describe the effects upon the inhabitants of Delhi and Mírat of Tamerlane's visit to these cities in 1398, A. D.

10. When was the important battle of Tálicót fought, and who were the combatants? Describe the geographical position of Tálicót, and the effect the battle had upon the Hindu kingdom of Bijayanagar.

11. In whose reign, and by what circumstances were the remains of the Afghan monarchy in Hindustan completely extinguished?

12. Give the date of the battle of Paniput, and describe its effects upon the Maratta army. At the time of the battle, what were the limits of the Maratta Empire; and what the state of the Maratta army?

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

Examiner,—W. S. ATKINSON, Esq., M.A.

1. Shew that 3 forces acting in one plane and proportional to the numbers 2, 4, 8, cannot keep a particle at rest.

2. Investigate generally the relation of the power to the weight on the inclined plane. What is the most effective direction for the power?

3. BCD is a circular plate of uniform thickness and density, weighing 2 lbs. A is its centre. B and C are two points in its circumference such that  $\angle BAC = 120^\circ$ . Its radius = 1 foot. If two weights of 1 lb. each are attached severally at B and C, find the point about which the system will balance in all positions.

4. State the 2nd law of motion, and the evidence on which it rests.

5. In what manner are "velocity" and "momentum," "accelerating force" and "moving force" numerically estimated?

6. A body falls down a smooth inclined plane in five seconds from rest, the length of the plane being 200 feet. What is its inclination to the horizon?

7. When a body of uniform density floats on a fluid, the part immersed is to the whole body as the specific gravity of the body is to the specific gravity of the fluid.

8. Explain the construction and action of the common pump.

9. A man, 6 feet high standing before a vertical plane-mirror just sees his whole length in it, his eye being 4 inches below the top of his head. What must be the length of the mirror, and at what height must it be raised from the ground?

10. A stick partly immersed in water obliquely appears bent at the surface of the water. Explain clearly the cause of this, using a figure.

11. Account for the alternations of the seasons. Why is the summer longer than the winter in the northern hemisphere? Supposing the poles of the Ecliptic and Equinoctial to coincide, explain the effect which would be produced upon the days and nights.

THURSDAY, April 7th.—Afternoon, 2 to 5½ P. M.

MATHEMATICS.

Examiner,—J. BURGESS, Esq.

1. Divide correctly 0.3 by 9.09; and find the sum of the series  $1 + \frac{1}{2} + \frac{1}{2^2} + \frac{1}{2^3} + \&c.$

2. If  $4\frac{2}{3}$  skillings at Amsterdam be worth 3 francs at Paris, and 5 francs be equal in value to 2 Rupees, how many skillings may be had for Rs. 572?

3. One leg of a right-angled triangle measures 12 feet, and the excess of twice the hypotenuse above the other leg is 21 feet; find the other leg and the hypotenuse.

Interpret the meaning of the two values of  $x$ .

4. Investigate an expression for the total number of combinations of  $n$  things, taken one at a time, two at a time, &c.

Find the number of permutations which may be made of the letters in the word "examination."

5. In either (but only in one) of the following expressions find the equation between  $x$  and  $y$ :—

$$(1) \quad px^2 + qy^2 \propto rx^2 + qy + q, \text{ If when } x=1, y=0$$

$$(2) \quad x + 17 \propto \sqrt{y^2 + 16y}, \text{ If when } x=5, y=2$$

6. From the equation  $(x^2 - y^2)^n = x + y$ , shew that

$$\frac{\log(x+y)}{\log(x-y)} = \frac{n}{1-n}.$$

7. If from a point without a circle, two right lines be drawn, one cutting the circle, the other meeting it, and if the rectangle under the secant and its external segment be equal to the square of the line which meets the circle, the line which meets the circle is a tangent.

8. A line bisecting the vertical angle of a triangle divides the opposite side into segments, which are proportional to the sides.

9. If three straight lines meet in a point, and a line be at right angles to all three at that point, these three lines shall be in one and the same plane.

10. Two points are taken in the adjacent faces of a solid, and joined by a line passing round the edge; prove that this line is the shortest when its parts make equal angles with the edge at which the faces meet.

11. Draw a tangent to a parabola from a point in the curve.

12. In the hyperbola, the perpendiculars from the foci to a tangent, meet in the circumference of a circle whose diameter is the axis major.

13. Prove that the sides of a triangle are as the sines of the opposite angles, and explain what is meant by the ambiguous case in trigonometry.

14. Given the sides  $b$  and  $c$ , and the angle  $A$ , of the triangle  $ABC$ ,—derive a formula for the angles  $B$  and  $C$ , and adapt it to logarithmic computation.

FRIDAY, April 8th.—Morning, 10 to 1½ P. M.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY AND CHEMISTRY.

Examiner,—DR. CROZIER.

1. Describe the figure of the Earth, its dimensions and the distribution of the land and water.

2. Give a general description of the crust of the earth, particularly its arrangement in strata.

3. What is the composition and properties of the atmosphere?

4. Describe the phenomena of rain ; the origin, course, and termination of rivers.

5. Enumerate the principal elements, with their symbols, which constitute the globe.

6. How do these elements combine to form the numerous substances found constituting the earth? Give, with their symbols and equivalents, the elements of water and rock salt.

7. What is the nature of salts generally? Give the elements, symbols and equivalents of a sulphate, nitrate and carbonate.

8. What is combustion and its result?

FRIDAY, April Sth.—Afternoon, 2 to 5½ P. M.

ANIMAL PHYSIOLOGY.

Examiner,—DR. CROZIER.

1. State the characteristic differences between organic and inorganic matter, and between vegetables and animals.

2. What elements enter into the composition of animal bodies, and what is the mode of their combination?

3. As these elements are constantly changing, how are animal bodies supplied with new elements?

4. Give a general description of the organs of nutrition.

5. Each animal having only a limited existence, how do the same species continue?

6. Give a general description of the organs peculiar to animals, especially the central parts of the nerves, and give the proofs that the brain is the organ of intelligence.

SATURDAY, April 9th.—Morning, 10 to 1½ P. M.

MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

Examiner,—R. L. MARTIN, Esq., M. A.

1. Shew that there are certain articles of Belief which arise, as primary principles, with an immediate feeling of conviction, in our moral constitution.
  2. Enumerate the most important of our desires. State briefly the effects of each.
  3. How do you prove that the appetites are not selfish?
  4. Distinguish accurately between Emulation and Envy.
  5. How does self-love differ from selfishness; what is the tendency of a true and rational self-love?
  6. For what reason do we value disinterested conduct in the exercise of the affections?
  7. How may injurious moral habits be best corrected?
  8. Prove the existence of Conscience as a distinct principle of the mind.
  9. Trace the analogy which exists between Conscience and Reason.
  10. Sketch briefly the moral systems of Hobbes and Adam Smith, stating and controverting the chief arguments which they use in defence of their theories.
  11. What effect ought a consideration of the moral relation which exists between man and the Deity to have upon our moral feelings?

SATURDAY, April 9th.—Afternoon, 2 to 5½ P. M.

LOGIC AND MENTAL PHILOSOPHY.

Examiner,—R. L. MARTIN, ESQ., M. A.

1. Define Logic, explaining in what sense it is to be looked upon as an Art, and in what sense as a Science?

2. Answer, at most, four of the following seven objections to the study of Logic:

a. Logic is a barren subject, for though studied for many centuries, it has made very little progress.

b. Logic is useless, for men may reason very well who know nothing of it.

c. Logic is unserviceable in the discovery of Truth.

d. The syllogistic mode of reasoning (which is advocated by Logicians) is not so good as the ordinary mode.

e. Logic leaves untouched the greatest difficulty it has to contend with, and that which is the source of the chief errors in reasoning, viz. the ambiguity of terms.

f. The science is useless in practice, for even Aristotle argues in his Treatise on Politics like a rational creature.

g. The writers on Logic do not even fulfil their professions.

3. Distinguish accurately between Abstraction and Generalization, stating which of the two is the more general, and by what means the latter may be indefinitely extended?

4. Upon what does the distribution or non-distribution of the subject and predicate depend? State and prove the two practical rules which are to be observed respecting distribution?

5. What is the greatest and what the least number of universal terms that can occur in the premises of a syllogism? Prove clearly that, if one of the premises be particular, the conclusion must be particular?

6. In what does Fallacy consist, and in what does it differ from Sophistry?

7. How are Fallacies concealed? To what does Whateley compare the difficulty of detecting and exposing a Fallacy?

8. To what Fallacies would you refer the following:

a. Overrating the probability of the conclusion where each premise of an argument is only probable.

b. The Thaumatrope Fallacy.

c. That arising from the twofold origin of the English language (give an instance of this Fallacy)?

d. Hume's Fallacy regarding the truth of the Christian miracles?

e. The decision of Cyrus respecting the two boys and their coats?

9. All arguments from induction may be reduced to syllogisms by the introduction of a common major Premise? What is this premise? What is the ordinary rule for fair argument which is not observed in Induction?

10. What are the different kinds of Association? by means of which of them is an artificial memory formed?

11. Analyse the mental process of which reason consists.

12. Give a brief sketch of Brown's system.

13. By what processes do we proceed from the first articles of Belief to the further investigation of Truth?

14. What are the peculiar conditions connected with the suspension of reason? In what respects do lunatics differ from idiots?

BACHELOR OF LAWS.

Pass Examination.

MONDAY, March 7th.—Morning, 10 to 1½ P. M.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF JURISPRUDENCE.

Examiner,—W. THEOBALD, ESQ.

1. What is Jurisprudence ; and wherein does it differ from mere Ethical Science ?

2. In what does the authority of Law consist ?

3. Explain what is meant by the term the “Law of Nature and Nations,” and state how that Law is ascertained ; what it is, or of what composed ? What is meant by “immutable Law ?” In what class of writers is this term (“immutable Law”) found ? Give some rule or principle derived from the (so-called) Law of Nature and Nations, and one from the (so-called) “immutable Law,” as specimens for illustration.

4. Of how many different parts did the Roman Law as reformed by Justinian consist ? What were they, what was the order of their appearance, and describe each ?

5. What are the rules furnished by Jurisprudence for a more or less strict, more or less liberal, more or less extended interpretation or application of rules of the Law ? and illustrate them by cases or decisions.

6. What is meant by the policy of a (or the) Law ; and by being contrary to the policy of a (or the) Law ; (e. g. ; in such phrases as “the policy of the Bankrupt Laws ;” “contrary to the policy of the Bankrupt Laws ?”) ? and illustrate your explanation by some case or decision which turned on the consideration of the policy of Law.

7. On what principles or grounds of reasoning, are precedent decisions of Courts accepted generally as of authority in like cases, so as to furnish a rule for the decision of such like cases, in a subsequent Court, whether it approves them or not ;

8. What were the rules (1) of the Roman Law, and (2) what are the rules of English Law, for determining (1) whether a custom exists, and (2) the validity of a custom ; or, in other words, for determining whether any alleged custom shall be recognised by a Court of Justice as such, and be adopted into customary Law ? Give some examples of customs of different kinds, and shew as to one or more, that they combine all the requisites of custom,

9. Describe or put in a tabular form (whichever you please) the different genera and species of " things," either according to the division of Blackstone or any other English Commentator, or according to the Roman jurists.

10. What is a corporation, and wherein does it differ from a firm or common co-partnership or association ?

11. What is meant by the Lex Loci ? And what is the Lex Loci of Calcutta ? What is meant by the Lex Loci rei sitæ ? And what are the Leges Loci rei sitæ of Calcutta and the Mofussil respectively ? What is meant by the Lex Fori ? And what by the Lex Domicilii ? And show by cases how the distinctions may become important ?

12. What is the Institution of property, and in what does the right of property essentially consist ?

13. What is the Institution of marriage, and in what does marriage essentially consist ?

MONDAY, March 7th.—Afternoon, 2 to 5½ P. M.

PERSONAL RIGHTS AND STATUS, &c.

Examiner,—W. THEOBALD, Esq.

1. What is allegiance? On what does it depend? Is it affected by place of birth, (e. g. by the being born in a foreign country)? Can a subject change his allegiance, so as to be absolved from its obligations? Suppose a British subject domiciled in a Foreign State, and war to be declared between that State and the Queen of England, would it be an offence for him to engage in the war against the Queen; and what would be the character of the offence?

2. Who are aliens? And in what way or ways may an alien obtain all or any of the rights of a British subject?

3. What is the effect of the marriage of a daughter on the paternal authority over her, and on her relations to her father's family?

4. What by English Law is the effect of marriage on the woman as respects her ante-nuptial property (supposing no settlement of it to be made on marriage); and as respects her power of acquiring and alienating property after marriage? In your answer distinguish between the Common Law and Chancery Law (Equity), and between personal and real property. Answer this question also by Hindoo and Mahomedan Law.

5. At what age does minority cease by (1) English (2) Hindoo (3) Mahomedan (4) Regulation Law? And what are the disabilities and immunities of minors by English Law, as respects their contracts and the acquisition and alienation of property?

6. What is essential to constitute legitimacy of birth?

7. What was the rule of the Roman Law, and what is the rule of the English Law, respecting the paternity of a child born of a married woman? And what are the exceptions to the rule?

8. In case of a hostile separation of husband and wife; which parent is entitled to the custody of the children having regard in your answer to the different ages and sexes of the children)? And what conditions are usually reserved in favor of the parent from whom the custody is taken?

9. By Hindoo Law, who may adopt a son, who may be adopted; in what way may an adoption be made or authorized; what is the effect of the adoption on the relation of the adopted son to his own father and father's family, and as respects birth-rights, whether of inheritance or of any other kind; and what are the rights which he acquires through the adoption; and what effect has the subsequent birth of a son to the adopting father on the rights of the adopted son as respects inheritance?

10. How many kinds of divorce are there by English Law, and what is the effect of each on the marriage tie and marriage relation?

11. By Roman Law, was the validity of a marriage affected by the same grounds of fraud and deceit in the contract as would affect the validity of any other kind of contract; and, if not, on what grounds of fraud, or deceit, or mistake in the contract, could a marriage be set aside?

12. What is the distinction between a marriage which is void and voidable: and on what grounds may a marriage be impeached as void (or to use a common expression void ab initio)?

13. What is consanguinity? what are lines of consanguinity, ascending and descending? what are collateral lines?

How are degrees of consanguinity reckoned by (1) the Roman (2) the common law, and which of the modes of reckoning has been adopted by the common law of England?

14. What is liberty (according to law;) and to what cases of imprisonment can the writ of habeas corpus apply, and to what not?

TUESDAY, March 8th.—Morning, 10 to 1½ P. M.

THE RIGHTS OF PROPERTY, &c.

Examiner,—A. G. MACPHERSON, Esq.

1. In what manner and to what extent is a man entitled to enjoy his own property? Give two examples by way of illustration.

2. In the case of a stream flowing in its natural course over the surface of land belonging to different proprietors, in what manner are the several proprietors entitled to use the water? Can any proprietor above diminish the quantity or injure the quality of the water? Or may any proprietor below throw back the water upon the land of those above? State your reasons.

3. Define a Nuisance at Law, and give an example of a Nuisance such as a Court of Law will interfere to abate or put a stop to.

4. If a man without right eject another from land, and afterwards build upon it, to whom does the building belong? And if A having gold dust of inferior quality chooses without B's consent to mix it up with an equal quantity of gold dust of superior quality belonging to B, to which of the two does the mixture belong? Give your reasons in each case.

5. Has A any right to build a house on his own ground, but so that the eaves overhang B's land? or has A a right to allow the boughs of a tree upon his land to grow so as to overhang B's land? Give your reasons.

6. Define generally what is a fixture according to English Law. Explain the consequences of a thing being affixed to the freehold. Give two illustrations of fixtures of different kinds.

7. State shortly the English Law as to perpetuities. Is there any and what difference in the law as it relates to reality and as it relates to personality?

8. Define an Estate Tail, and give an instance of it. Can there be an Estate Tail in personality? Give your reasons.

9. Is a gift to a man "until he shall become bankrupt" a valid gift? State your reasons.

10. Can a person in any case transfer to another a right which he does not himself possess? If not, why not? If he can, give one or two instances.

11. What is the difference between absolute property and special property? Give two examples of special property.

12. Define a Will. State what forms are requisite to the due making of a valid Will by English Law, and what by Hindoo Law?

13. A Hindoo in Bengal dies intestate. Give the order in which the various classes of relations will succeed, to the fifth degree.

14. A Hindoo in Bengal dies, leaving a daughter his heiress and representative. What Estate does the daughter take in her deceased father's Estate? And upon her death, to whom does the property go?

15. Describe the Ryottee tenure, the Moocurreree tenure, and the Zemindaree tenure, and point out the distinctions between them. Can the proprietors of these tenures respectively alienate them without the consent of, or reference to, the superior landlord?

16. Is a power of sale in a mortgage deed valid according to Mofussil Law, that is to say, if a mortgage deed gives the mortgagee a power of sale over the estate, in case default shall be made on a certain day named, and if the mortgagee, after default has been made, sells under the power, can the purchaser by suit in the Mofussil Courts enforce his right as purchaser to possession of the land as against the mortgager? State your reasons, and say what the English Law on this point is.

TUESDAY, March 8th.—Afternoon, 2 to 5½ P. M.

ON THE LAW OF CONTRACTS.

Examiner,—A. G. MACPHERSON, ESQ.

1. There is a maxim to the effect that the form of agreement and the contract of parties overrule the law. To what extent is this true? Give an instance or two.

2. Can a contract be illegal and void as to part, but not necessarily so as to the whole? Give an instance.

3. If A agree to give B money for doing an illegal act, can B if he do the act, recover the money by bringing an action for it? And if the money had once been paid by A, can A recover it back? Give your reasons in each case, and state what is the test to be applied in determining the question.

4. Define a consideration (in English law),—such as is necessary to give effect to a contract. Give illustrations.

This question is not intended to apply to contracts under seal.

5. An agreement recited, that A had in his lifetime expressed a wish that B his widow should have a certain house belonging to him, and that A's representatives were desirous to carry out his wishes and the agreement went on to say that they, the representatives, did thereby agree to convey the house in question to B, who did thereby agree to pay them an annual rent of £5 for it. In this case there is a good and sufficient consideration. What in particular is the consideration? Give your reasons for saying so.

6. A contract cannot ordinarily be enforced against an infant, or against a married woman (according to English law). In these cases, is the contract void or voidable only? And what is the effect of confirmation by the infant on attaining majority, and by the married woman after the death of her husband?

7. What (in English law) is the foundation of the husband's liability for necessities supplied to his wife? What is the extent of his liability?

8. What are the general rules as to the liability of principals and agents as regards contracts entered into by Agents?

9. If a principal, undisclosed at the time of contract made, subsequently interferes and sues upon the contract, is he bound by a set-off against the agent, pleaded by the defendant,—the set-off having been credited and acquired by the defendant against the agent before the principal had interfered or was disclosed? Give your reasons.

10. If a certain duty is entrusted by a principal to an agent, can the latter delegate his authority, and employ another agent to perform the duty? Give an example and your reasons.

11. What is the doctrine of Caveat Emptor according to English Law? and state generally where it applies.

12. When an agreement is for a specific chattel in its then state, is there any implied warranty of its fitness or merchantable quality? And if a person is employed to make a specific chattel, is there any contract on his part that it shall be fit for the purpose for which it is ordinarily used? Give your reasons.

13. When a contract is required by Law to be in writing. Can it be varied by any subsequent verbal agreement between the parties? Why is this so?

14. What are the periods of limitations to actions on contracts, according to English Law? and what, according to Mofussil Law?

15. Define Partnership: and state generally what it is that makes men partners as regards the world at large.

16. What is a Mortgage? State the various kinds of mortgage of land in common use in the Mofussil.

WEDNESDAY, March 9th.—Morning, 10 to 1½ P. M.

PROCEDURE AND THE LAW OF EVIDENCE.

Examiner,—A. G. MACPHERSON, Esq.

1. What is the difference between mesne and final process in an action in the English Courts?

2. When there are several co-defendants in an action on contract (in an English Court), and the plaintiff's case fails as to one of them,—what effect has this upon his case as regards the other defendants? And what is the effect in the like case in an action on tort? Give your reasons.

3. State the principles upon which the plaint, answer, reply, rejoinder and other pleadings in a case in the Mofussil Courts ought to be framed.

4. What is an “Act IV” case? State the object and mode of proceeding in such a suit, and the effect of a final order made in it.

5. In the case of a Kut-kubala, or mortgage by conditional sale, what steps must be taken by a mortgagee who wishes to foreclose the mortgage, and to obtain possession of the land mortgaged to him?

6. What is the difference between primary and secondary evidence?—and in what cases is secondary evidence admissible?

7. Are there any degrees in secondary evidence? Give an example.

8. In what cases, and to what extent, are the proceedings in a former suit binding upon, or evidence against, the parties to a subsequent suit? Give your reasons.

9. Where there are several subscribing witnesses to a deed, is it necessary to call them all, if they are at hand, in order to prove the deed? Give an instance and your reasons.

10. State generally in what cases hearsay evidence is admissible.

11. A statement made by a third person is evidence against the plaintiff or defendant if the latter were present when the statement was made. Why is this? and give an example.

12. If a man give a receipt (not under seal) in writing acknowledging that he has received a certain sum of money, what is the effect of such receipt? And can the person who gave it afterwards deny that he has in fact received the money? Why is this so?

13. In considering the question of the validity of a document, what effect or weight has the fact of its being registered?

14. State generally the difference between Common Law and Equity in English Law, and in what classes of cases do you sue in Equity,—in what classes of cases do you sue at Common Law?

WEDNESDAY, March 9th.—Afternoon, 2 to 5½ P. M.

CRIMINAL LAW.

Examiner,—W. THEOBALD, ESQ.

1. What is a Crime, and what essentially distinguishes crime from other kinds of wrong?

2. By English Law, up to what age does infancy absolutely exempt from criminal responsibility; at what age does infancy cease to be a ground of exemption at all; and what is the rule as to criminal responsibility, or on what does it depend, in the intermediate ages?

3. Having regard to the varying character of insanity; and supposing a case in which the extent of the insanity is doubtful; and consequently it becomes doubtful whether the accused is criminally responsible; what is the test, or question, on which the criminal responsibility depends, according to recent decisions of English Law, and give some account of any case in which the question has arisen and a rule been laid down.

4. By English Law, is a man liable to be tried for a crime and convicted while he is in a state of madness? and give the reason of the Law, and what is the legal proceeding against him.

5. What degree or kind of force or compulsion (vis major) will constitute an excuse by English Law for the commission of a crime; is it available as an excuse for all kinds of crime? and explain the reasons of the Law.

6. How are homicides classified; give examples of the different kinds, and describe the different responsibilities in the way of punishment attached to them?

7. By English Law, what general name is used to distinguish inferior offences from felonies, and what peculiar consequences besides the personal punishment of the offender attach to a felony?

8. Suppose a man, while intending to do only what is lawful, (e. g. to shoot a bird) were to kill a man: and suppose a contrary case,—that while intending to shoot a man, he missed and did him no harm. Analyze and discuss the two cases, say whether the absence of criminal intention in the first case is an absolute excuse, or an excuse at all, or on what his criminal responsibility depends. And say whether the failure of the intention in the second case is an excuse, or on what the criminal responsibility by Law depends?

9. What is the principle of English Law, on which a man once acquitted of an offence is entitled to plead that acquittal in bar of a second trial. And show by inference from the principle, or by reference to actual cases, to what cases, of first trials and acquittals, the rule does not extend?

10. Mention any principles or maxims of the Mahomedan Law or religion respecting witnesses or offenders, which are contrary to English ideas of justice, and state by what procedure or regulations those principles are counteracted in cases governed by Mahomedan Law in the East India Company's system?

11. What is necessary to constitute the offence of highway robbery (Sarika-i-Kobra) by Mahomedan Law.

12. What is the offence of Larceny by English Law, and describe the different kinds or modes of taking or obtaining, which constitute the offence?

13. What is the difference between the Law of England and the East India Company's law, as to the right of private persons to prosecute for perjury committed in Civil Suits to their injury?

B. L. HONOR EXAMINATION.

MONDAY, March 28th.—Morning, 10 to 1½ P. M.

HINDU LAW.

Examiner,—A. G. MACPHERSON, Esq., M. A.

1. State accurately the nature of the estate taken by a childless Hindu widow who succeeds to her deceased husband's property? To what extent, and in what manner, can she use and deal with it? Are alienations of it made by her valid, and if so under what circumstances, and to what extent? On her death who succeeds to the property? Can her rights become forfeited during her life, and if so when? and in such case on whom does the estate devolve?

2. Three sisters A, B, and C, succeed jointly to their father's estate. C has three sons, and dies before A, or B. A dies childless, leaving B surviving, who has one son. To whom does C's share go on her (C's) death? To whom does A's share go upon her (A's) death? And to whom will that share go upon B's death? Give your reasons.

3. Define Stredhun, and say of what descriptions it may be. Are there any peculiarities attached to the enjoyment of it? And who succeeds to it on the death of the woman to whom it belongs?

4. A Hindu in Bengal dies, leaving four sons (who succeed jointly to his estate) and a widow. Can any one of the sons insist upon a partition being made of the joint estate? Can the widow insist upon it? On partition into how many shares is the property divisible, and who takes the shares respectively? Supposing there are unmarried daughters who are entitled to maintainance out of the joint estate, is any and what provision made for them on the partition?

5. What is the effect of marriage upon the rights of the woman, as affecting her power of entering into contracts and the like? Can a marriage be dissolved during the lives of the parties, and how and for what reasons?—and what is the effect of such dissolution?

6. According to the Bengal doctrine, up to what age does minority last? What is the effect of minority on the rights of the minor, as to his power to make contracts and the like? Who is the person entitled to the charge or guardianship of a minor and his property, and what rights has such guardian on the person and property of the minor?

MAHOMEDAN LAW.

7. State generally the rules of distribution of the estate of a deceased Mahomedan.

8. A Mahomedan dies leaving three sons, three daughters, the son of a deceased son, a widow, and his mother, how is his property divisible on his death?

9. A man dies leaving three widows, six sons, and six daughters. How will his property be distributed amongst them?

10. Define Shoofaa, or the right of pre-emption. Who may claim the right, and what forms have to be gone through in the exercise of it?

11. To what extent can a man dispose of his property by will? What forms or solemnities are required to constitute a valid will?

12. What is the position of a married woman as regards her rights, such as her power to contract and the like?

13. Under what circumstances can a Mahomedan divorce his wife, and in what manner must he do it, to make the divorce valid? If he has once divorced her, can he ever marry her again? If so, under what circumstances?

14. Up to what age does minority last according to Mahomedan law? What are its effects on the minor's position and rights? Who are the guardians of the minor, and what are the rights of the guardian with reference to the person and property of the minor?

GENERAL LAW AS ADMINISTERED IN THE COURTS OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.

Examiner,—W. THEOBALD, ESQ.

1. By the Regulations the Courts are directed to decide according to Equity and good Conscience in cases not provided for by the Regulations, and for the decision of which Hindoo and Mahometan Law afford no rule. State a number of cases of that description, and the principles by which the Courts are guided in deciding them?

2. A, a Mahometan, purchases of B, a Mahometan, a thousand maunds of grain: the contract is perfect and binding: but before delivery the grain is destroyed by a fire, which is accidental, and for which no one is to blame, who bears the loss of the grain?

a. Suppose the same transaction with the same result between two persons who are British born, who bears the loss of the grain?

b. Suppose it to be between Eurasians, who bears the loss?

c. Suppose it to be between Hindoos, who bears the loss?—and, in such case, what is the principle of the decision or the reasoning on which it turns?

3. What is possession, and what is adverse possession: give examples of the different species under these names, or show what circumstances may constitute possession and adverse possession?

4. What is meant by “limitation of action” (in point of time); how many different periods of limitation are there;

to what do they respectively apply; and what extinguishment of right do they effectuate, as respects the diversity of their application?—and on what law do they rest, e. g. on the Regulations, on Hindoo Law, on Mahometan Law, or on what, and give particulars of the Law on which you say they rest?

5. What is the doctrine of Lis Pendens, and give examples of its application?

6. When (i. e., for what causes or under what circumstances) may defendants be required to give security on the application of plaintiffs, and security to what purpose or end: state the causes in a distinct and categorical manner, numbering them 1, 2, 3, 4, &c., &c.?

7. What are the rules respecting the registration of deeds?—what are the advantages attended to registration and the consequences which may ensue from non-registration, and to what kinds of deeds and transactions do those advantages and consequences attach?

8. State, in analytical order, the substance of the provisions of the Act (19 of 1841) for the protection of moveable and immoveable property against wrongful possession in cases of succession. The analysis will give a division into what subjects: and then state the substance of the provisions.

9. State in a similar manner the substance of the provisions of the Act (20 of 1841) for facilitating the collection of debts or successions, and for the security of parties paying debts, to the representatives of deceased persons.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATION PAPERS.

MONDAY, March 7th.—Morning, 10 to 1½ P. M.

ENGLISH.

Examiner,—GEORGE SMITH, ESQ., M. A.

JOHNSON AND PARNELL.

I. What is Satiric Poetry? Into what classes has it been divided? Give instances of great Satirists in ancient and modern times.

II. By what examples does Johnson illustrate the vanity of the wish for old age?

III. Nor deem, when learning her last prize bestows,
The glittering eminence exempt from foes;
See, when the vulgar 'scapes, despised or awed,
Rebellion's vengeful talons seize on Laud.
From meaner minds though smaller fines content,
The plundered palace or sequestered rent;
Marked out by dangerous parts, he meets the shock,
And fatal learning leads him to the block:
Around his tomb let Art and Genius weep;
But hear his death, ye blockheads, hear and sleep.

a. Explain the allusion.

b. Parse "nor deem."

c. Put in prosaic order, so as to shew the meaning, the lines—

"From meaner minds though smaller fines content,
The plundered palace or sequestered rent."

IV. Distinguish between the direct and indirect sentence. Change the following into the indirect form :

a. "Breathes there the man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said,
'This is mine own, my native land?'"

b. "Liberty is commensurate with and inseparable from British soil ; British law proclaims even to the stranger and the sojourner, the moment he sets his foot upon British earth, that the ground on which he treads is holy, and consecrated by the genius of Universal Emancipation !"

V. When first the College rolls receive his name,
The young enthusiast quits his ease for fame :
Resistless burns the fever of renown,
Caught from the strong contagion of the gown :
O'er Bodley's dome his future labors spread
And Bacon's mansion trembles o'er his head.
Are these thy views ? proceed, illustrious youth,
And virtue guard thee to the throne of truth !
Yet should thy soul indulge the generous heat,
Till captive science yields her last retreat ;
Should reason guide thee with her brightest ray,
And pour on misty doubt resistless day ;
Should no false kindness lure to loose delight,
Nor praise relax nor difficulty fright ;
Should tempting novelty thy cell refrain,
And sloth effuse her opiate fumes in vain ;
Should beauty blunt on fops her fatal dart,
Nor claim the triumph of a lettered heart ;
Should no disease thy torpid veins invade,
Nor melancholy phantoms haunt thy shade ;
Yet hope not life from grief or danger free,
Nor think the doom of man reversed for thee ;

Deign on the passing world to turn thine eyes,
And pause awhile from learning, to be wise.

State, in your own language, the contents of the above passage.

VI. Give the literal and exact meaning of the following expressions from, "The Hermit."

'The tenour of his soul.'

---

'His raiment decent.'

---

'Yet still the kindness, from a thirst of praise,
Prov'd the vain flourish of expensive ease.'

'Gay parterres.'

---

'Luscious wine.'

---

'The dappled morn.'

---

'The passage o'er
Was nice to find.'

---

'Second means.'

---

'And 'twas my ministry to deal the blow.'

VII. What prepositions are used after the following words? Illustrate them in sentences:

redolent	trust
careful	entrust
superior	confident
preferable	shocked
militate	compatible
reduce	enjoin
profit	blush.

VIII. After what Verbs used actively must “to,” the sign of the Infinitive, be omitted? Give examples in sentences.

IX. Give all the terminations denoting of or pertaining to. What do the following terminations denote?

Adjectives.	Verbs.
—ive	—ise or ire
—escent	—ish
—less	—fy
—aceous	—en

Give examples (in words.)

X. From Cado = to fall (Root Cad or Cas) and Cædo = to cut (Root Cid or Cis) form with prefixes, &c., English words.

MONDAY, March 7th.—Afternoon, 2 to 5½ P. M.

ENGLISH.

Examiner,—E. B. COWELL, ESQ., M. A.

VICAR OF WAKEFIELD.

1. “It was out of my power to give my son any assistance, either in attempting to save our goods, or preventing the flames spreading to our corn. By this time the neighbours were alarmed, and came running to our assistance; but all they could do was to stand, like us, spectators of the calamity. My goods, among which were the notes I had reserved for my daughters’ fortunes, were entirely consumed, except a box with some papers that stood in the kitchen, and two or three things more of little consequence, which my son brought away in the beginning. The neighbours, however, contributed what they could to lighten our distress. My honest next neighbour and his children were not the least assiduous in providing us with every thing necessary, and offering whatever consolation untutored benevolence could suggest.”

Parse the words in italics, and explain accurately the meaning in the above extract of "out of my power," "of little consequence," "by this time," "untutored benevolence," and "not the least assiduous." How does the last phrase differ from "not in the least assiduous?"

2. Distinguish between human, humane; council, counsel; cattle, chattel; plain, plane; statue, statute; and parse born, borne, he laid, and he lay.

3. How many different parts of speech may each of the following words be:—fine, object, fair, intimate, sound, state, desert; and what are their various meanings as such?

4. Give the past tense of sing, fling, fly, flee, seek, drink, wear.

5. a. "It is not what is she? but what has she? is all the cry."

b. "The squire's portrait being found united to ours, was an honour too great to escape envy."

c. Having taken this resolution, my next care was to gather together the wrecks of my fortune."

Parse the words in italics.

6. What rules of grammar are violated in the following sentences:

a. "You are a much greater loser than me."

b. "In proportion as either of these two qualities are wanting, the language is imperfect."

c. "Who do you think me to be?"

d. "I have seen him yesterday."

7. What is the difference between "let us be diligent," and "may we be diligent," why is the pronoun in different cases in the two sentences? Explain fully the construction of let.

8. Explain the meaning of the following sentences :

a. "Let us draw on content for the deficiencies of fortune."

b. "Had she but died!"

c. "Description would but beggar, therefore it is unnecessary to describe this new mortification."

d. "Good company upon the road is the shortest cut."

e. "Her tranquillity was the languor of over-wrought resentment."

f. "The less kind I found fortune at one time, the more I expected from her at another, and being now at the bottom of her wheel, every new revolution might lift but could not depress me."

9. Explain the exact meaning of the following words, giving the etymology where you can.—

Prepossess,—undermine,—investigate,—inflexible,—subordinate,—transgress,—extraordinary,—familiar,—notwithstanding,—primæval,—farewell,—dishearten,—counterfeit.

10. Write a short essay on the following subject :

"Every station of life has duties which are proper to it."

II. In what aspect does this Ode present Horace? State the causes that led to the evils of which he speaks.

III. Distinguish between

civicus and civilis;

regius and regalis;

materies and materia;

incolumis, salvus tutus, securus.

IV. Conjugate active and passive reficio

calefacio

and give the rule for the formation of the passive of facio in composition.

V. Give the rules for the following constructions

scelerum

equo

jubeas

properet

rei.

VI. Express tenerae nimis mentes asperioribus firmandae studiis by the gerund and by an impersonal verb.

VII. Consortem. Give Latin and English words connected with or derived from it.

VIII. In what cases are si, quum, and dum followed by the subjunctive? Give examples.

SALLUST.

1. Imperator postquam de regum societate cognovit, non temere neque, uti sæpe jam victo Jugurtha consueverat, omnibus locis pugnandi copiam facit; ceterum haud procul ab Cirta castris munitis reges opperitur, melius esse ratus, cognitis Mauris, quoniam is novus hostis accesserat, ex commodo pugnam facere. Interim Roma per litteras certior fit provinciam Numidiam Mario datam; nam consulem factum ante acceperat. Quis rebus supra bonum atque honestum percussus, neque lacrimas tenere neque moderari linguam; vir egregius in aliis artibus nimis molli-ter aegritudinem pati. Quam rem alii in superbiam vertebant, alii bonum ingenium contumelia accensum esse, multi, quod jam parta victoria ex manibus eriperetur. Nobis satis cognitum est, illum magis honore Marii quam injuria sua excruciatum neque tam anxie laturum fuisse, si adempta provincia alii quam Mario traderetur.

Translate the above into English.

2. a. Parse consueverat, percussus, pati, parta, cognitum, traderetur, opperitur.

b. What is the construction of tenere and moderari?

3. Decline in the singular number, supellex, quivis, impar, eques.

4. What classes of adjectives govern the genitive in Latin? Give examples.

5. What is the construction of interest and refert with regard to the thing and the person?

6. Metellus in iisdem castris quadriduo moratus, saucios cum cura reficit, meritos in prœliis more militiæ donat, universos in contione laudat atque agit gratias; hortatur ad cetera, quae levia sunt, parem animum gerant; pro victoria satis jam pugnatum, reliquos labores pro praeda fore. Tamen interim transfugas et alios opportunos, Jugurtha ubi gentium aut quid agitare, cum paucisne esset, an exercitum haberet, ut sese victus gereret, exploratum misit. At ille sese in loca saltuosa et natura munita receperat, ibique cogebat exercitum numero hominum ampliorem sed hebetem infirmumque, agri ac pecoris magis quam belli cultorem.

Translate the above into English.

7. Distinguish between transfuga, perfuga and fugitivus; give the rule for ubi gentium, and parse pugnatum.

8. Under what circumstances can a passive verb be followed by an accusative? Give instances.

9. What is the etymology of prudens, ambitio, pecunia, and scilicet.

10. What is the difference of meaning between donec with an indicative and with a subjunctive.

11. Give instances of adverbs having degrees of comparison. Of what adjectives are supremus and extremus the superlatives?

12. Translate into Latin.

a. Marius came to Zama; that town, situated in a plain, was fortified more by labour than nature; it lacked nothing which was necessary, being rich in men and arms.

b. Jugurtha replied that nothing was to him weightier or dearer than the authority of the senate.

6. In any  $\Delta$  A B C, if the  $\angle$ s at A and B be bisected by straight lines which meet in D, shew that the line joining D and C will bisect the  $\angle$  A C B.
7. If the square described on the side of a  $\Delta$  be equal to the sum of the squares described on the other two sides of it, the  $\angle$  contained by these two sides is a right  $\angle$ .

8. (1.) If a straight line be divided into two equal parts and also into two unequal parts, the rectangle contained by the unequal parts, together with the square of the line between the points of section, is equal to the square of half the line.

(2.) Prove this also Algebraically.

9. The squares of the diagonals of a parallelogram are together equal to the sum of the squares of the four sides.

10. If in a  $\odot$  two straight lines cut one another which do not both pass through the centre, they do not bisect each other.

ARITHMETIC AND ALGEBRA.

Examiner,—J. BURGESS, Esq.,

1. What do you mean by a prime number, a factor, a ratio? Resolve 30 and 132 into their prime factors, and find their ratio in its simplest terms.

2. How much muslin at 1 rupee 5 ans. 8 pie per yard, is equal in value to 143 yards of cambric at 3 rupees 13 ans. 8 pie per yard?

3. Whether is the product of  $2\frac{1}{4}$  and  $3\frac{1}{5}$  or the product of  $2\frac{1}{5}$  and  $3\frac{1}{4}$  the greater? Extract the square root of the difference.

4. If a person get a bequest of  $\frac{5}{7}$  of an estate of 2000 acres, and sell  $\frac{2}{5}$  of his share, how many acres does he retain? Simplify the expression

$$\frac{1}{10 + 2 + \frac{1}{30}}$$

5. Find by practice the rent of 586 acres 1 rood 31 poles, at £4 1s.  $10\frac{1}{2}d.$  per acre.

6. A piece of land is 11.916 poles broad, how long must it be to contain an acre? Divide accurately 0.063 by 0.036.

7. How much must be paid for £1250 stock when it sells at 108 per cent.?

8. Multiply  $1 - x + x^2 - x^3$  by  $1 + x + x^2 + x^3$ ; divide  $(x^{\frac{2}{3}} - a^{\frac{2}{3}})(x^{\frac{2}{3}} + a^{\frac{2}{3}})$  by  $x^{\frac{1}{3}} + a^{\frac{1}{3}}$ ; and subtract  $bcd^2 - (a^2 - b^2)bd$  from  $(a^2 + bc)d^2 - (a^2 - c^2)bd$ .

9. Solve the following equations—

$$(a) \dots\dots 10(x + \frac{1}{2}) - 23 = 6x(\frac{1}{x} - \frac{1}{3}).$$

$$(b) \dots\dots\dots 5 + 7\sqrt{(\frac{2}{3}x - 6)} = 19.$$

10. I bought 25 yards of cloth for 223 Rs. 8 annas, for part I paid 8 Rs. 8 annas a yard, and for the rest 9 Rs. 8 annas a yard, how many yards of each were there?

11. If  $m : n :: p : q$ , prove that  $\frac{(m-n)(m-p)}{m} = (m+q) - (n+p).$

12. Divide 39 into two such parts that the greater increased by 6 shall be to the less diminished by 3 as 5 to 2.

13. In a right-angled triangle, the base is 8, and the sum of the hypotenuse and perpendicular is 12, it is required to find them.

14. A person has two horses, and a saddle worth 75 rupees; if the saddle be put on the first horse, his value becomes double that of the second; but if the saddle be put on the second horse, his value will not amount to that of the first horse by 150 rupees. What is the value of each?

15. There are three numbers, such that the sum of the first and second divided by their product is  $\frac{1}{2}$ ; the sum of the second and third divided by their product is  $\frac{1}{3}$ ; and the sum of the first and third divided by their product is  $\frac{1}{4}$ . Find the numbers.
